Overview

Dr Bruno Blaya will be presenting an overview of male genital dermatoses and anatomical variants of normality in the male genitalia with a special focus on the practical management of these conditions.

Dr Deshan Sebaratnam will be presenting an introduction into the use of lasers in dermatology.

Learning outcomes

- Identify, diagnose and treat several common dermatoses that affect the genital skin in males
- Recognise common anatomical variants in the skin of the male genitalia such as pearly penile papules, angiokeratomas or Fordyce spots
- Apply the different treatments that can be used on the male genital skin
- Differentiate common types of laser and light platforms – the pulsed dye laser, broadband light, Q-switched laser, ablative laser
- Identify which patients are eligible for treatment with laser through the MBS and which laser platforms are available through the public hospital system in NSW.

About the speakers

Dr Blaya is an experienced dermatologist with a special interest in skin cancer, inflammatory diseases of the skin and genital dermatoses. Dr Blaya graduated from the University of Barcelona, Spain and worked as a consultant dermatologist for eight years before moving to Australia in 2017. Dr Blaya was the head of the STI unit in Hospital Universitario Sanitas La Moraleja (Madrid) before relocating to Australia. He is a Fellow of the Australasian College of Dermatologists after successfully completing the Fellowship exams in 2018.

Dr Deshan Sebaratnam is a consultant dermatologist with interests in all facets of dermatology including medical, surgical, cosmetic and paediatric dermatology. He was awarded a scholarship to St. John's Institute for Dermatology in London where he completed his Fellowship. He has a strong interest in teaching and research and is a Conjoint Senior Lecturer with the University of New South Wales. He has published research in international medical journals and has presented at conferences around the world.
